Georgia FBLA Dress Code

Revised and Adopted June 30, 2018, Georgia FBLA Board of Directors

The Georgia FBLA Board of Directors has adopted a dress code that will be effective for the 2026 Fall Leadership Conference, 2027 Region Leadership Conference, and 2027 State Leadership Conference. All advisers are expected to share the dress code with their students and take responsibility for making sure their students follow the dress code when at a conference.

All delegates and advisers are expected to wear business attire to general sessions, competitive events, campaigning, and workshops. Competitive event competitors will receive a point deduction if not dressed according o the Official Dress. Conference competitors will not be allowed to participate in conference activities if not dressed properly. Georgia FBLA will attempt to monitor dress code at all conference activities. However, advisers are responsible for ensuring that students who attend the conferences are aware and follow the dress code prior to entering any conference function or activity.

By signing the Adviser Assurance Form, you, as the adviser, are accountable for your students' conduct and dress at the conferences listed above. Event administrators will be asked to enforce the dress code. If questions arise, a member of the board of directors will make the final decision.

Local advisers are expected to follow as well as enforce the dress code for their students.

Broadcast Journalism

Spotlight on Success: How Local Businesses Strengthen Communities

Create a broadcast news story highlighting how a local business is making a positive impact in your community through innovation, workforce development, or community involvement. Plan your coverage like a real journalist by researching the business, interviewing an owner, employee, or community member, capturing video footage, and presenting a compelling story that informs and engages your audience.

How does this business contribute to the local economy and improve the community it serves? Use your reporting to showcase the business's impact and inspire viewers to recognize the important role local businesses play in building strong communities.

The pre-recorded story must be no longer than two minutes.

Business Ethics

Business Ethics: Maintaining Stakeholder Trust During a Food Safety Crisis.

Food safety incidents can have significant consequences for customers, employees, suppliers, investors, regulators, and the communities organizations serve. Competitors will examine how business leaders should respond when public health, operational decisions, financial stability, and stakeholder trust are all at risk. They should analyze the ethical responsibilities involved, consider the impact on key stakeholders, and develop recommendations that demonstrate transparency, accountability, and sound decision-making during a food safety crisis.

Click here for the full background and topic for use in the executive summary and presentation.

Coding & Programming

Serving the Community: Nonprofit Volunteer Management

Nonprofit organizations rely on volunteers to support programs, events, and community initiatives. Effectively managing volunteer information, service opportunities, schedules, and participation can help organizations operate more efficiently and increase their impact.

Use your programming skills to develop a program that helps nonprofit organizations recruit, organize, and manage volunteers and community service activities. Your program may be a command-line application, desktop application, or interactive interface. Choose the platform that best demonstrates your programming skills.

Your solution should help nonprofit organizations coordinate volunteers, manage service opportunities, maintain records, and monitor participation while supporting the needs of both volunteers and organization leaders.

Computer Game & Simulation Programming
Road to the Championship
Players take control of a high school athletic team with one goal: win the state championship. Throughout the season, they must recruit and develop athletes, manage practices and resources, maintain team morale, respond to unexpected challenges, and make strategic decisions that influence performance on and off the field.

Create a game or simulation that challenges players to build a successful program while balancing competition, leadership, planning, and long-term team development.

How will strategic decision-making help your team overcome obstacles and achieve championship success?

Data Analysis
From donating food to giving blood, there have never been more ways to support our communities.

Flinders Street Technology is a fictional technology services provider organized as a Public Benefit Corporation, operating in the United States and 31 other countries. Flinders Street Tech is developing a Social Impact Plan for the communities it serves in the US. It wants to understand how formal and informal volunteering, charitable giving, and other measures of social engagement have changed over time across the US.

Using the data provided and your own research, identify relevant trends and recommend priorities for the plan.

How can one story inspire others to become involved and make a difference?

Financial Planning
Rebuilding Financial Security: The Smith Family's Future
The Smith family is working to rebuild financial security after a period of unemployment, reduced household income, unexpected expenses, and increased credit card debt. With one child preparing to attend college, aging-parent care responsibilities, limited emergency savings, and retirement and insurance concerns, the family must balance several competing financial priorities. They are seeking guidance on improving cash flow, rebuilding savings, reducing debt, preparing for college and future caregiving expenses, increasing retirement contributions, and strengthening their overall financial protection.

Business professionals rely on leadership skills to communicate effectively, solve problems, work collaboratively, and achieve organizational goals. Strong leadership contributes to success in the workplace, the classroom, and the community.

Develop and deliver an engaging lesson on a leadership topic of your choice for a business education classroom. Topics may include, but are not limited to, communication, teamwork, decision-making, conflict resolution, leadership styles, goal setting, ethical leadership, emotional intelligence, or other leadership concepts relevant to business education.

Your lesson should help students understand and apply leadership concepts in business, school, and everyday life.

Graphic Design

A hotel in your area has recently completed a major renovation and is preparing to relaunch with a fresh identity that reflects its updated facilities, guest experience, and brand vision. Develop a cohesive visual identity that communicates the hotel's personality and appeals to its target audience.

Create a branding package that establishes a recognizable identity and supports the hotel's grand reopening. The package should include logo development, visual identity standards, promotional materials, and branded assets that demonstrate how the brand can be applied across multiple touchpoints and customer experiences.

Your final designs should demonstrate strong branding principles, visual communication, and consistency while creating an identity that supports the hotel's relaunch and attracts future guests.

Introduction to Business Presentation
Where Leaders Begin: Leading a Multigenerational Workforce
Today's workplaces bring together employees from multiple generations, each contributing unique experiences, perspectives, communication styles, and work preferences. Develop a presentation that explores how business leaders can build collaboration, strengthen communication, and create an inclusive workplace where employees of all generations can succeed.

How can effective leadership transform generational differences into organizational success?

Introduction to Programming
Local Business Digital Ordering System
Many small businesses are expanding their services by offering customers the ability to place orders digitally. Develop a digital ordering system for a local business of your choice that provides customers with a convenient and user-friendly ordering experience.

Your program should allow customers to browse products or services, place and manage orders, calculate purchase totals, and review order information. Competitors should determine the specific features and functionality that best support the needs of the selected business and its customers.

Your program should also account for real-world situations, such as unavailable items, inventory limits, invalid entries, or customer budget constraints.

Use any programming language or environment that demonstrates your understanding of variables, conditionals, loops, functions, lists or arrays, user input, and basic program organization.

How can your system improve the customer experience while helping a local business operate more efficiently?

Introduction to Public Speaking
Where Leaders Begin: Serving Others
Deliver a speech explaining how serving others helps individuals develop leadership skills, build stronger communities, and create meaningful change. Support your ideas with examples from school, business, or everyday life.

How does serving others prepare individuals to become effective leaders?

Introduction to Social Media Strategy
Tee Off the Fun: Grand Opening of a Family Mini Golf Course
A new family mini golf course is preparing for its grand opening and wants to use social media to introduce its brand, build excitement, and encourage families and friends to visit. Choose one social media platform and create a series of posts that promote the grand opening and showcases the unique experiences the mini golf course has to offer.

How can social media generate excitement, attract new customers, and encourage visitors to return for future experiences?

Mobile Application Development
Together We Go: Group Trip Planner
Planning a trip with family or friends often involves coordinating schedules, activities, budgets, and important information. Develop a mobile application that helps groups organize and manage a shared trip from planning through completion.

Your application should provide functionality that supports collaboration, communication, scheduling, budgeting, organization, and trip management for multiple users. Competitors should determine the specific features and user experience that best address the needs of travelers.

How can your application make planning and enjoying a group trip easier, more organized, and more collaborative?

Public Service Announcement
Every Bite Counts: Reducing Food Waste
Create a public service announcement (PSA) that encourages individuals and families to reduce food waste through thoughtful planning, responsible consumption, and sustainable habits.

How can your message inspire others to reduce food waste and make a positive impact on their community and the environment?

Public Speaking
Discipline Over Talent: The Habits of Successful Leaders
Deliver a speech exploring the role discipline plays in achieving personal and professional success. Examine how discipline shapes leadership, influences decision-making, and contributes to achieving long-term goals.

Why does discipline often have a greater impact on long-term success than talent alone?

Social Media Strategies
Adventure Awaits: Relaunching an Outdoor Adventure Rental Business
An outdoor adventure rental business has recently been renovated and is under new ownership. While demand for outdoor recreation continues to grow, the business has struggled to stand out in a competitive market and has a limited social media presence.

Company leaders want to increase awareness, attract new customers, and establish a recognizable brand before the grand reopening.

You have been hired as a social media consultant to develop a strategy that supports the business's goals and creates meaningful connections with current and prospective customers.

How can a strategic social media campaign transform a local business into a recognized destination for outdoor adventure experiences?

Supply Chain Management
The Last Mile Challenge
A national online retailer has experienced rapid growth, resulting in increased customer demand and higher expectations for rapid delivery. While sales continue to increase, delivery costs have risen significantly, order fulfillment times have become inconsistent, and customer satisfaction scores have declined. Company leaders must determine how to improve performance without sacrificing profitability.

You have been hired as a supply chain consultant to analyze the organization's challenges and develop a strategy that supports continued growth and long-term success.

How can effective supply chain strategies help organizations balance customer expectations, operational efficiency, and profitability?

Visual Design
Creating a Public Library and Technology Center Experience
A public library and technology center is being developed to serve the needs of a growing community while creating an engaging, welcoming, and accessible visitor experience. The facility will offer traditional library services alongside technology resources, collaborative workspaces, digital learning opportunities, and community programs.

Develop a visual design concept that helps visitors navigate the space, access information, and connect with available resources and services.

How can thoughtful visual design transform a public library and technology center into a space that is clear, welcoming, functional, and inspiring for its community?

Website Coding & Development
Digital Resource Management Website
Organizations often need efficient ways to manage shared resources, information, requests, or services. Develop a fully functional website that addresses a real-world organizational need through thoughtful design, clear navigation, and effective use of technology.

Competitors should determine the purpose, audience, structure, and key features of the website based on the problem they choose to solve. Focus on clean design, functionality, accessibility, responsive layouts, user experience, and well-organized code. The website must be coded from scratch using programming languages and technologies of the competitor's choice.

Website Design
Community Resource Website
Communities often have a wide range of organizations, programs, services, events, and resources that support residents and local needs. A well-organized website can present this information clearly, making it easier for users to explore available resources, understand community offerings, and access relevant information in one central location.

Your team has been hired to design a modern, user-friendly website that organizes community information and resources in a clear, accessible, and visually engaging way.

Focus on visual design, usability, accessibility, responsive layouts, and effective organization of information. Your design should create an engaging user experience that allows visitors to explore community resources and locate information that is relevant to their needs.

Georgia FBLA Event Guidelines

This is a supplement to the FBLA Chapter Management Handbook to help guide advisers through the competition process at the state level for high school and middle school chapters.

- The guidelines specified in this event supersede any guidelines issued by the national office for competitions at the Region Leadership Conference or the State Leadership Conference. These guidelines do not apply to competition at the National Leadership Conference.
- A member may enter multiple events, subject to limitations as explained in the Event Eligibility Chart.
- All online objective tests will be contested through the online testing system.
- Online tests will be computer-graded. Ties will be broken by comparing the number of correct responses to 20 preselected tie-breaker questions of the objective tests for each affected competitor.
- For state only events, competitors may not have won the event at a previous State Leadership Conference.
- For events competed on the national level, competitors may not have competed in the event at a previous National Leadership Conference, except where otherwise specified in the guidelines.
- Participants must adhere to the dress code or may be disqualified.
- In region competitive events, not every competitor who places will advance to SLC. Refer to page 8 for more information.
- Participants failing to report on time may be disqualified.
- Advisers, when choosing your competitors, make sure that they know the dates of the State Leadership Conference (March 18-20, 2027) and the National Leadership Conference (June 23-26, 2027). Please do not enter a student in an event who cannot attend SLC and NLC should they place high enough to continue with competition.
- All event results will be available after the awards program at State Leadership Conference. Awards and rating sheets will not be mailed.
- Reports received from local chapters become the property of Georgia FBLA. These reports may be used for publication or reproduced for sale by the state or national association. Reports may not be returned to the local chapter.
- All presentations are open to conference attendees, except performing competitors of that event. Interview events are not open to spectators. Some preliminary rounds and some RLC events may not be open to the conference attendees.
- Participants may be disqualified for not closely following the guidelines.
- Any guidelines that are addressed by the national association but may not be expressed in these guidelines may apply.
- Because we now allow members to compete in multiple events, competitors and advisers should understand that the national office still restricts competitors to 1 individual/team event. Therefore, if a member qualifies to compete at NLC in more than one individual/team event, he/she will be required to choose no later than March 26 in which event to advance.
- Participants competing at the National Leadership Conference should follow the competitive event guidelines provided by the national association. See the FBLA website for the most current national competitive event guidelines as some guidelines may have been amended during the year.
- All judges' decisions are final

National FBLA Policy on Artificial Intelligence

FBLA will not ban the use of AI software, except where expressly listed, although competitors should be aware of potential biases in data and algorithms, as well as possible inaccurate information provided by the software. The AI tools used should be in line with the FBLA Honor Code to ensure ethical and responsible use of AI, promote fair competition, and uphold the integrity of FBLA events.

Competitors should be aware that any work produced by tools is not their own work; all use of AI software must be appropriately credited and cited. Use of AI must not involve any form of plagiarism or unauthorized use of copyrighted materials. Competitors must be able to explain the use of AI to judges.

Participants must not have placed among the top 10 in this event at a previous National Leadership Conference.

For those events that begin at the Region Leadership Conference, only those competitors who have advanced from their respective Region Leadership Conference are eligible to compete in this event at the State Leadership Conference. No substitutions will be allowed.

Overview

A 50-minute online objective test will be administered prior to the Region Leadership Conference OR at the State Leadership Conference based on the knowledge areas listed below. Advisers should refer to the Georgia FBLA Online Testing Procedures (See Appendix C).

Objective Test Guidelines

- No materials may be brought to the testing site.
- Participants must use the standard calculator function provided by the computer's operating system or the testing application. Participants may not use their own calculator.
- Ties will be broken by comparing the number of correct responses to 20 preselected tie-breaker questions of the objective tests for each affected competitor.

Awards

Region Leadership Conference: The maximum number of awards will be 10. These top 10 competitors from each Region Leadership Conference will advance to the State Leadership Conference. Only those competitors who have advanced from their respective Region Leadership Conference are eligible to compete in this event at the State Leadership Conference. No substitutions will be allowed.

Competitors in this event must be in the complete Georgia FBLA Official Dress. If any team member is not in complete compliance with the Georgia FBLA official dress, each judge will deduct 5 points.

This event consists of three parts: an online objective test, a prejudged report, and a presentation. For Region Leadership Conference, the competitors will now submit the prejudged report and do a live presentation at the Region Leadership Conference. There is no more video submission.

Competitors are expected to follow all applicable copyright guidelines.

Each team or individual presentation must be the result of its own independent work. Facts and working data may be secured from any source. The student members, not the advisers, must prepare presentations and speeches. In the event of a team entry, all members of the team must participate in the advance research of the topic and in the actual presentation. The competitors must answer judges' questions about their presentation (SLC final round only).

Any photographs, text, trademarks, or names used must be supported by proper documentation and approvals indicated.

All competitors will participate in the prejudged report at the Region Leadership Conference which must be submitted by December 1.

At RLC, the prejudged report, objective test, and live presentation scores will be combined and winners across the state will advance to the State Leadership Conference where only these entries will participate in the oral presentation component at the State Leadership Conference where they will demonstrate/present their project to the panel of judges. Depending on the number of entries that advance out of the prejudged component, there may be a need for a preliminary round presentation at SLC that will determine the entries that will compete in the final round of each event.

The chapter must provide all equipment for the presentation. Internet access will NOT be provided; therefore, online presentation services (e.g., Prezi) should not be used. Individuals or team members must perform all aspects of the presentation (e.g., speaking, setup, operating audiovisual equipment). Other representatives of the chapter, including the adviser, may not provide assistance.

Visual aids and samples may be used in the presentation; however, no items may be left with the judges or audience. Food, which may be used for display, may not be consumed by judges. Links and QR codes may be shown but may not be scanned or clicked by the judges at any time.

Competitors should incorporate the following aspects in their presentation in response to the topic:

- Define the Ethical Issue: Identify and clearly define the ethical dilemma using appropriate industry terminology.
- Analyze Contributing Factors: Explain at least two key reasons behind the issue. Provide thoughtful analysis to demonstrate understanding of how these factors impact the situation.
- Offer Ethical Recommendations: Present two or more well-supported solutions to address the ethical dilemma, using credible evidence to justify each recommendation.

Because we are contracting with an outside company to run our online testing, we cannot, under any circumstances, extend the deadline due to weather, illnesses, mail delivery, etc. So, please plan accordingly. It is strongly recommended that you not plan testing on the final day in the event that something happens.

ENTRY PROCEDURES

Because members have the option to compete in multiple events, you should plan a 2 hour session for the testing to occur. This will allow for instructions and then for the students to complete their events. It is not mandatory that testing for your chapter occur at the same time as you may choose to hold multiple testing sessions. However, students competing in the same event must test within the same time frame. No Exceptions! Should a student be sick on the day of testing, alternative arrangements can be made. However, any other student competing in the same events as the absent student must also reschedule. As adviser, you must make the decision whether to disqualify the absent student from competing or reschedule any applicable tests. Testing dates and times will be monitored, and if two students at your school take a test in the same event at different times, the latter will be disqualified.

RLC Online Testing will occur separately from RLC Skills Testing and has a separate slate of procedures. School-site online testing may be conducted in one of two ways:

1. Option 1: Multiple School Testing. If there are two or more schools in your area, you may bring all students together for the competition and test them at the same time under multiple proctors. For example, if four schools in your vicinity have competitors, the four schools should arrange a common testing date and time for all of their competitors in one of the testing schools. Advisers of the participating schools would then serve as joint proctors for the entire event. Please note that this option may result in multiple rooms being needed for all of the testing. You also need to ensure that your network server can handle the increased internet traffic.

2. Option 2: Single School Testing. If area chapters are not able to get together at a common site, you may get an independent proctor for your students. This independent proctor may be a neighboring adviser or a school administrator, guidance counselor, technology specialist or media specialist from your school to proctor your students. This proctor must not be a teacher at your school and should not be a retired teacher who has taught any of the competitors. Under no circumstances may an adviser or even another teacher at your school administer the tests to your students.

Once you choose your partner school, arrange a date, time, and location for the online testing. There should be one teacher familiar with the testing lab(s) and internet access who will be at school during the testing in order to help with any problems in the lab(s).

You must include your proctor contact information on the online RLC Online Testing Site Form. You must specify the testing option you choose, the testing site, the testing proctor, and other schools participating in the same testing session (if applicable) on this form. This form must be completed in its entirety online.

Once your RLC registration is processed, testing materials will be e-mailed to the adviser the week before testing. If you have not received your testing materials, please contact Monty Rhodes at least 24 hours prior to your scheduled test.

Once you receive the materials, please verify the roster included and give the Proctor Instructions and Information to your test proctor for his/her advance review. There will also be a separate envelope with competitor login information and instructions. Students should not login prior to December 2.

INTERNET CONNECTIVITY AND ACCESS

The adviser at the testing site needs to coordinate with the school's technology directors to ensure that Internet connectivity will be available and at a premium for all testing machines. The program is best viewed in Internet Explorer 5.0+ at 1024 x 768 resolution. You should inform the technology director of the testing site URL (will be announced on the website) so that potential firewall problems can be addressed beforehand. All students testing (including those who may not be students at your school) must have access to the Internet as the testing will conducted over the web. Advisers should ensure that network access will be available during that time.

If a student cannot access the test via the Internet at your school, he/she will need to go to another school site where this can be done. Students may NOT take the test at home.

TESTING PROCEDURES

50-minutes will be allowed for each online test. You may access the Participant Online Testing Guide from the Georgia FBLA website and testing site, accessible through the Georgia FBLA Website.

The testing proctor will be responsible for signing the Proctor Certification Form. The adviser must upload to Blue Panda this/these form(s) the day following the final test session so that it is received in the state office (3316-A South Cobb Drive, Suite #229, Smyrna, GA 30080) by December 10. Do not mail this form to your region adviser. This form must be uploaded for the entries to be certified. You do NOT need to return the testing script, testing ID cards, or scratch paper – only the Proctor Certification Form.

The proctor must also send an email to testing@georgiafbla.org from his/her email address listing the times and competitors tested and verifying that the testing and proctoring procedures were followed. Emails should not be sent from the adviser's address.

Proctor Instructions and Information – Online

Thank you for agreeing to support the educational and career preparation of FBLA by agreeing to serve as a Proctor for this competitive event. Your involvement and commitment make this program possible for our students. We appreciate your willingness to help!

As you prepare to administer the event, please take a few minutes and familiarize yourself with the appropriate event guidelines and with the instructions that follow. It is important that the guidelines and instructions be followed carefully to ensure fairness to all competitors. If you have any questions or require clarification, please email Monty Rhodes at monty@georgiafbla.org or 678-231-7640 prior to the testing. Should any issues arrive during the testing session, please contact Technical Support at 678-231-7640.

Before the Event:

1. Familiarize yourself with the test instructions so that you will be better prepared to anticipate the needs of your students.
2. Familiarize yourself with the equipment and facility in which the testing will take place. Be sure you know how to turn on the machines, access the Internet, troubleshoot common problems, etc. You need to check specifically for if students can log onto the computers and also access the Internet.
3. Verify that students will be able to sign into a local network. The program will work at 800 x 600 or higher resolution, but is best viewed at 1024 x 768 resolution. Set the resolutions before participants log into the program. (Click on Start, click on Settings, click on Control Panel, click on Display, click on Settings, go to Screen Area and change to 1024 x 768).
4. Students competing in the same event must not sit next to each other, this includes the team events which are no longer collaborative (Banking & Financial Systems, Business Ethics, Business Management, Entrepreneurship, Hospitality Event Management, International Business, Management Information Systems, Marketing, Network Design, and Sports & Entertainment Management). All students in team events must take their tests individually and independently.
5. You should distribute the login cards (PLEASE MAKE SURE THE STUDENT RECEIVE THE CORRECT LOGIN CARD AND KNOW WHAT EVENT THEY ARE TESTING IN AT THAT SESSION) to each competitor. It is imperative that the students enter the login information exactly as provided on the card, even if names are spelled incorrectly.
6. Students may not furnish their own calculators. There is a calculator function that is available within the online testing application. Cell phones with calculator functions must also not be used. Students may use the basic calculator application provided by the computer's operating system. A student may not use an application such as Excel to calculate values.

During the Event:

1. It is important that the 50 minute (30 minutes for Middle School) time limit indicated for each event is strictly followed. Once the clock has started on an event, it will continue to run. The clock will not be stopped for any reason as it is run by the system.
2. Students are permitted to review their test and change answers as necessary during the course of the 50 minutes (30 minutes for Middle School). However, the students are not allowed to print any portion of the test.
3. Students are not permitted to visit any other site on the Internet. As a proctor, you should strictly and closely monitor the students at all times making sure no one is accessing a screen other than the testing system.
4. Proctors are not to provide ANY assistance in using the software. Proctors are permitted to assist only with equipment problems (i.e. screen freezes, network connections, etc.).

5. If the students are not able to access the Online Testing system, are not able to access the Internet, or the Internet goes down for a significant portion of time, you should call Technical Support immediately at 678-231-7640.
6. If a system locks up during the test, please reboot the machine or have the student move to another machine. Please keep in mind that clock continues to run during this downtime. Please keep track of the downtime. If you find at the end of the test that the student needs more time, you should call Technical Support immediately at 470-494-7762. Extra time will only be granted to students who do not complete their tests and lose time because of a system malfunction. Many tests are designed so that most students do not complete the test within the time given.
7. If a student finds that he/she is unable to change their answers because of a system issue, you should have the student write the number of the question as well as the new answer they wanted to select. Include the first several words to differentiate one selection from another; do NOT simply provide A, B, C, or D as the orders are randomized for each student. This should only be done if the system is malfunctioning and not allowing the student to change his/her answer during the permitted time. Once the time has ended, the student will not be able to change their answers and thus must go with the answers already in the system. Include the student's name, school, and event on this sheet and email to Monty Rhodes at monty@georgiafbla.org.
9. Observation of cheating or any other unethical conduct should be report to the state office immediately.
10. If a student is taking multiple tests and opens the wrong test, they must exit out of the test and you must immediately call Technical Support at 678-231-7640 so that the test can be reset. Failure to do so may result in the disqualification of all other individuals taking the same test being disqualified from the event

After the Event:

1. If a student is competing in two events in a separate session, you should pull his/her login card as he/she will use the same login information for both events.
2. After the students complete the test, they may leave. You must also complete the Proctor Certification Form. A separate Proctor Certification Form must be completed for each testing session. The proctor certification form should be uploaded by the adviser to the state registration system by December 9.
3. Upon completion of the testing session, the proctor must send an email to testing@georgiafbla.org listing the testing times, the competitors tested during that session, and a general statement that all competitors were supervised without any assistance. This email must come from the proctor's email account. Emails from an adviser's email account will not be accepted.
4. Return the Proctor Certification Form to the adviser to upload to the state registration system (Blue Panda) by December 9:

Thanks again for your assistance!

Proctor Script – Online (Subject to Change)

NOTE: Instructions to the Proctor are printed in regular type. Information that should be read to the participants is printed in bold. If students finish the test early, they may turn in the test materials and leave the test site.

All testing should occur at the school-site and be proctored by a school system employee who is not another teacher or WBL Coordinator (e.g., administrator, media special, guidance counselor, etc.).

Make sure students have a quiet space to work away from outside distractions. Students competing in the same event may not sit next to each other and all competitors must be in a location where you as the proctor can see their screen.

You should have all testing cards printed and ready, along with a testing schedule, prior to your first exam. You can find instructions on how to find these here.

Very important: Teams must take individual tests ensuring that each team member will take their own test and not work together. An average of the member's score will be their final score.

Announce to the contestant(s):

Today you will be completing an online objective test for Georgia FBLA. The exam is 100-questions and you are allotted 50 minutes (or 50 questions and 30 minutes for Middle School) to complete the exam. At this time, I will be handing out your testing login card. Please review this card and ensure you have received the card for the exam you are currently scheduled to take.

After passing out the cards and confirming exams, announce to the contestant(s): Do not click ahead of the instructions I provide. Otherwise, it could result in the disqualification of you and your fellow members. At this time, please turn off all electronic devices. Using an unapproved device is grounds for immediate disqualification of you and your entire chapter. In addition, you are not permitted to use outside websites during the test. This is also grounds for disqualification.

If your test includes the use of a calculator, you can find one in your testing window. Do not use a personal calculator or system tool calculator.

Announce to the contestant(s):

Please navigate to https://bpet.gobluepanda.com/students/login

Enter the Event Code, Username, and Passcode that are all found on the login cards.

Once logged in, you will see all tests that you have registered for. If you see multiple tests listed, you must take only the test you are assigned to take at this time. If you are registered for multiple tests you may not start the other test until you are scheduled to take that test; failure to follow this instruction may result in your disqualification.

Please wait patiently until all members taking a test have reached the testing screen.

When all members have reached the testing screen

Now that all testing members are on the testing screen, I will review a few instructions before we begin.

Do not click on any buttons until you are told to do so by myself.

Please verify the test you are scheduled to take appears on the screen.

Students should be seated independent of any other competitors – even teammates in a team event.

Contestants will be prompted to answer

If you have any issues with your equipment or require technical assistance during the exam, please raise your hand.

When you have concluded your exam, please sit quietly at your workspace until I have dismissed you.

Read the instructions aloud to the contestant.

Do not rush and do careless work in an effort to complete the entire test.

Are you ready? You have 50 minutes (30 minutes for Middle School) to complete this test. Don't forget to take your time, reading each question carefully, but working quickly to complete the exam.

Once you begin the exam, you must finish the test. The clock will continue to run even if you leave your testing station or close the testing window.

You may now select to begin your test.

The Test Proctor may assist with any hardware problems. Any time lost during a hardware problem may be added to the testing time. Proctors should keep distractions, including conversation, to a minimum.

How you dismiss students is up to you. You may have them leave right after their test, hold them the entire 50 minutes (30 minutes for Middle School), or create your own plan. Each student's test will run on its own clock, stopping them when 50 minutes (30 minutes for Middle School) has been reached.

If you catch a student using unapproved computer equipment or a cell phone, please document the incident and contact the State Adviser.

Thank you for your help.

The Test Proctor may assist with any hardware problems. The testing system will only allow 50 minutes to complete the test (30 minutes for Middle School). If a student is unable to spend the entire time testing, he/she will not be permitted to finish the test later in another session. Proctors should keep distractions, including conversation, to a minimum.

Please sign the Proctor Certification Form, and return it to the adviser to upload it to state office. You do not need to mail the testing ID cards, script, or instructions back. You must also send an email to testing@georgiafbla.org listing the testing times and the competitors testing for each testing session. This email must come from the proctor's email account. Emails from an adviser's email account will not be accepted. Thank you for your help!

SLC Skills Testing Procedures

Congratulations on competing at the 2027 State Leadership Conference in your respective skilled event. Please share this important information with your adviser as you begin to prepare for the SLC Skills Testing.

IMPORTANT DATES

School-site Testing Period: March 1-3

School-site Testing Judging: March 4

Eligibility: One member per chapter

Because we begin judging these materials on Thursday, March 4, we cannot, under any circumstances, extend the deadline due to weather, illnesses, mail delivery, etc. So, please plan accordingly.

ENTRY PROCEDURES

Skills testing may be conducted at school-sites the following three ways:

Option 1: Group Testing
If there are two or more schools in your area with RLC Skills Testing competitors, you may bring all students together for the competition and test them at the same time where advisers proctor students from other schools. For example, if four schools in your area have competitors and like software/equipment, the four schools should arrange a common testing date and time for all of their competitors at a single testing site. Whenever possible, this option should be used.

Option 2: Partner Testing
If there are two schools in your area with RLC Skills Testing competitors, you may proctor each other's students either at your school or their school. For example, School A's adviser would travel to School B and proctor their students; whereas, School B's adviser would then travel to School A and proctor their students. Or the students may be the ones traveling to the partner school.

Option 3: Independent Testing
If you are unable to arrange for an adviser from another chapter to proctor your students, you may have an administrator (principal, assistant principal, or CTAE administrator) from your school proctor the students. You may NOT use a guidance counselor, media specialist, technology teacher, or another teacher, staff member, or paraprofessional to proctor Skills testing. Retired advisers and business professionals are not allowed to serve as proctors either.

You should make every effort for an adviser from another chapter to administer the tests to your students. However, if you are testing under Option 1 with multiple schools testing at the same location, advisers of the participating schools may serve as joint proctors for all of the competitors involved.

Once you choose your partner school, arrange a date, time, and location for the skills testing. There should be one teacher familiar with the testing lab(s) and network access (if applicable) who will be at school during the testing in order to help with any problems in the lab(s).

Once you've determined the testing date, time, and location, complete the online SLC Skills Testing Registration Form by February 2. You must specify the testing option you choose, the testing site (where the tests will be given), the testing proctor (with proctor information), and the other schools participating in that session (if applicable) on your online SLC Skills Testing Registration Form. You do not need to submit registration fees at this time. You will pay registration fees for these competitors (fees will be charged for every test taken or returned unsealed) when you register for the SLC.

New This Year: You must make sure that all students testing have access to the Internet and also have the ability to generate PDF files from their documents. If your students don't have Adobe Acrobat (not Reader) installed, you need to work with your technology department to use one of many free PDF writers available. Suggested sites include CutePDF Writer (http://www.cutepdf.com), Bullzip PDF writer (http://www.bullzip.com), PDF 24 (http://en.pdf24.org/pdf-creator-download.html), PDF Creator (http://sourceforge.net/projects/pdfcreator/), and doPDF (http://www.dopdf.com). Once testing has started, the proctor or adviser may not assist the students in creating the PDF files or uploading the documents.

If you do not receive your testing materials one day prior to your testing date, please contact Monty Rhodes. Tests willb e emailed to your proctor at least one day prior to the scheduled testing date.

SLC Skills Testing competitors must also be registered for the State Leadership Conference by February 2. On February 2, we will compare the list of Skills Testing competitors to the list of registered SLC delegates. If your competitor is not registered for the State Leadership Conference by February 2, his/her materials will NOT be judged and a $10 processing charge per non-registered competitor/team will be assessed. There is no processing charge for students registered for the State Leadership Conference.

Your proctor will receive your SLC Skills Testing Packet the day prior to the testing, via email. If your proctor does not receive your testing materials by the day prior to the testing session, contact Monty Rhodes. Testing materials are NOT to be opened until the day of the test and should only be opened by the proctor. Proctor Instructions and Information will be available on the Georgia FBLA Website. If you receive testing materials and your student decides not to test, your proctor must destroy the tests.

TESTING PROCEDURES

TTwo hours will be allowed for Computer Applications.

The proctor who is staying at the school to help in the lab(s) should be sure the lab(s) is ready for testing (enough paper/ink in the printers, staplers available, equipment OK, USB drives, etc.). The proctor should also ensure that Internet access is available to all competitors and that these competitors are able to create PDF files. Local chapter advisers may NOT be in the room during test unless they are proctoring students from other chapters under Option 1.

The testing proctor will administer the tests according to the instructions in the test packet and will mail the proctor certification form back to the state office no later than the day following the testing day (if testing occurs on a Friday, they must be mailed on Saturday). Students' work should be saved to a backup CD or USB drive. This should be retained by the proctor in case the original files are not received. Files on the USB drives should not be accessed unless requested by the Executive Director. If a test is not taken, it must be returned to the state office unopened.

Production jobs for all events can be submitted in black and white.

Rather than printing the jobs, the students will now upload their documents one at a time using an online form. Students will need Internet access throughout the test. Students must be able to generate their own PDF files from the applications used.

IMPORTANT: Once the testing is complete, the proctor must shred and destroy all tests taken along with any printed documents. The Skills Testing Proctor Certification Form should be signed by the proctor and given back to the adviser to upload to the state registration system (Blue Panda) by March 4. The proctor must also send an email to testing@georgiafbla.org from his/her email account following the test that they administered the test according to instructions, listing the names of the students proctored. Failure to do this will result in disqualification of the students.

All testing materials must be UPLOADED immediately after the test is taken. Students who do not upload their documents immediately after completing the test will be disqualified. It is therefore important that the proctor verify that internet access will be available to the students and that these students have the applications/functionality available to them that will allow them to create PDFs.

Proctor Instructions & Information – Skills

Thank you for agreeing to support the educational and career preparation of FBLA by agreeing to serve as a Proctor for this competitive event. Your involvement and commitment makes this program possible for our students. We appreciate your willingness to help!

As you prepare to administer the event, please take a few minutes and familiarize yourself with the appropriate event guidelines, the contents of this packet, and with the instructions that follow. It is important that the guidelines and instructions be followed carefully to ensure fairness to all competitors. If you have any questions or require clarification, please contact Monty Rhodes at 678-231-7640 or at monty@georgiafbla.org.

Packet Contents:

You should have the following items.

- A copy of the test for each student you are proctoring. If you are missing any tests, please contact Monty Rhodes at monty@georgiafbla.org or 678-231-7640.
- A Proctor Certification Form.
- A copy of the script, including instructions for use during the actual administration of the event(s).

Before the Event:

1. Familiarize yourself with the test instructions so that you will be better prepared to anticipate the needs of your students.
2. The tests have been sent to you via EMAIL. Do NOT forward these tests or the email to the local adviser. If you are proctoring the tests, please print the tests and then store for safekeeping until the time of the test. If you are not proctoring the tests, please place the tests in a sealed envelope before giving to the proctor.

2. Familiarize yourself with the equipment and facility in which the testing will take place. Be sure you know how to turn on the machines, access the software, connect to the printers, troubleshoot common problems, etc. You may need to specifically check for the following:
   - Can the students log onto the computers?
   - Where will students save their test files?
   - How do the students get into the software package(s) they will be using?
   - How are the printers configured?
   - Are all printers loaded with ample paper?

Event Times:

Please note the this event allows only two hours for the student to complete the jobs.

During the Event:

1. It is important that the time limit indicated for each event is strictly followed. Once the clock has started on an event, it must continue to run. The clock may be stopped, and testing interrupted, only to correct major hardware failures. Students may not complete the event in multiple sessions, nor may they take additional time beyond that allowed for their event. If a technical delay occurs, the length of the delay shall be added onto the end of the session. If a technical delay occurs and the student is unable to stay for extra time to complete the exam in that session, the student is not allowed to complete the test in another session. Once the time has ended, the students may only upload their documents. They may not make changes to any documents after the time has ended.

2. Templates or macros may not be brought in by the student as they often do not conform to the Production Test Reference Guide. Students may not use any other information to help them with the use of the software.

3. Students must furnish their own copy of the Production Test Reference Guide.

4. Students are permitted to review their printouts, make corrections, and reprint if time allows. However, all printouts, including those discarded by the students, must be destroyed and shredded by the proctor. Simply throwing away documents without shredding them is not acceptable.

5. Proctors are not to provide ANY assistance in using the software. Proctors are permitted to assist only with equipment problems (i.e. printer jams, screen freezes, printer needs more paper, accessing the Internet etc.)

6. If you are aware that a student is not using the correct software procedure for items such as mail merge in word processing, formulas in spreadsheets, and/or filters/sorts in databases, make a note on that student's paper after they have submitted their work and left the event.

7. Be sure to review the competitor's instructions carefully with the student(s) at the beginning of the event. Also, be sure to watch the time carefully to ensure that the competitor is allowed only what is indicated for the event. Time lost due to equipment problems can be added on at the end of the event, but an indication of this should be made on the student's materials.

After the Event:

1. As the students complete their tests, they may begin to start uploading the documents. The students must upload their documents using the correct event upload online form. This form must be completed in its entirety. Before submitting the form, the students must ensure that they have uploaded all documents correctly.

2. Make sure you collect all materials including the original test materials, instructions, any discarded printouts, etc. All tests and supporting documents must be shredded and destroyed.

3. Check to see that the students have exited their software properly and all files have been saved to a USB drive or CD. This USB drive or CD should remain in your possession until you receive the proctor receipt email. The documents on the CD or USB drive are not to be opened after the testing concludes.

4. Make any appropriate notations and comments about computer/printer problems on the proctor certification form.

5. The proctor certification form must be signed and returned to the local adviser to be uploaded to the state registration system (Blue Panda). These should be POSTMARKED the DAY after testing but no later than March 4.

6. Only the proctor may handle and destroy the tests following the testing. Advisers may not review the tests or shred the tests. Failure to do so will result in disqualification of your students.

7. Upon completion of the test, you must send an email to testing@georgiafbla.org with the following information:
   a. Names of students tested and a separate list of the students who did not test.
   b. A statement that the testing was conducted in accordance with Georgia FBLA Skills Testing Policies
   c. The tests are not returned to the local adviser or anyone else prior to being mailed back to the state office.

Proctor Script – Skills

NOTE: Instructions to the Proctor are printed in regular type. Information which should be read to the competitors is printed in bold font.

Hand out tests and other required materials. Each test should include a copy of the instructions and their competitor code.

Contestants must use a computer to complete these events. Allow students time to set up their equipment and ensure it is working properly.

Announce to the contestant(s):

The skills test you are taking today will count 100% of your total state score.

All of the documents that you will submit for grading will be uploaded. While you may print documents to review, nothing you print out will be graded. You will upload all of your documents at the end of the testing session. All files must be saved as PDF before being uploaded. Documents that are not saved and uploaded as a PDF will NOT be graded.

If the computer system you are using for the testing allows students to temporarily save their work to the server/hard drive, announce:

Test documents are to be temporarily saved on a USB drive, hard drive, or network server. Once you have uploaded all of your documents, you will save them on a backup USB drive or network drive. You will then erase all documents at the end of the testing period from your machine or drive.

Announce to contestant(s):

You will want to proofread very carefully from the screen and print each document as it is completed. You may reprint if you need to correct errors, but all pages printed – even if they are to be discarded – must be turned in at the end of the event. You should create your PDF files as you complete a job. Once time is called, you will only be allowed to upload your documents. You will not be allowed to make any changes. All word processing documents must adhere to the style prescribed in the Production Test Reference Guide. You are allowed to refer to the Production Test Reference Guide. You now have ten minutes to warm up.

Contestant may warm up by keying in the directions to the test. At the end of ten minutes, announce:

Please stop. Are there any problems with the equipment?

After any equipment problems have been corrected, announce to contestant(s):

Open the test document. Read the General Instructions on the front of the test.
(Allow a few minutes for competitors to read the instructions)

Do not rush and do careless work in an effort to complete the entire test. For each typographical error, you will lose 2 to 5 points. Failure to follow the Production Test Reference Guide or instructions within the problem will result in a 5-point deduction for each instance. For most problems two or three little errors will result in no points for those problems. If you are running out of time, it is recommended that you review your completed jobs rather than begin another job you will not be able to finish. Partial credit will not be granted for jobs not completed.

Are you ready? Contestants in Computer Applications will have 2 hours to complete the test.

The Test Proctor may assist with any hardware problems. Any time lost during a hardware problem may be added to the testing time. It is important that each competitor receive exactly 2 hours — no more and no less depending on the event. This time must be run continuously and may not be administered in multiple sessions, with the exception of technical problems outside the control of the student. If there are technical issues, these should be noted on the front of the packet by the administrator. If a student is unable to spend the entire time testing, he/she will not be permitted to finish the test later in another session. Proctors should announce when the contestants have 15 and then 5 minutes to complete the test. Proctors should keep distractions, including conversation, to a minimum.

After exactly 2 hours for Computer Applications, announce:

> STOP. Save your current document as a PDF file if you have not already done so and begin uploading your documents. You can access the online forms at links on your cover sheet. You may not make any changes to your documents. You may only upload your PDF files now.
> Place your test, all printouts, and other items in your testing packet. Return each set, the test paper, and any extra printed papers to your test envelope. Once you have uploaded all of your files using the Online Submission Form, make sure you have saved all files from this event from the server/hard drive to a backup CD or USB drive and then delete these files from your machine or network drive. Please remain in your seat until I have collected the test, test documents, and other testing materials.

Please sign the Proctor Certification Form and return it to the adviser to upload to the state registration system (Blue Panda) no later than the day following the administration of the test.. All other materials must be destroyed and shredded. Simply discarding in the trash without shredding is not acceptable. Keep the backup CD or USB drive in your possession. Thank you for your help!
